

Abstract

The invention provides a conjugate comprising a hyperbranched polymer covalently bonded to at least three UV absorbing chromophores having an UV absorption maximum $\lambda_{\text{max}} \geq 270$ nm.

The conjugate is an effective and safe sunscreen which can advantageously be used in cosmetic compositions.